Welcome to the 15th Annual SCORE Conference (Symposium for Customer Operations & Relationship Exposition), the only event that combines CX best practices with an industry awards ceremony recognizing companies that scored exceptionally high service ratings from their own customers or certified their customer-facing groups through comprehensive soft skills training.

“If CX is your business, you need to attend SCORE!”

Join hundreds of your service, support, sales, marketing and human resources colleagues in expanding your knowledge and awareness of the methods others have used to implement a CX strategy that encompasses both employees and customers. The two-day event includes comprehensive CX summit sessions, intensive workshops, inspirational keynote presentations, engaging panel sessions and case studies that cover all areas of building a CX program and managing customer operations more productively.

A highlight of the SCORE Conference is the formal presentation of the NorthFace ScoreBoard℠ Award (NFSB) and CEMPRO℠ Award. The NFSB Award is the original customer service industry award, voted exclusively by an organization’s customers, where recipients must receive a customer rating of 4.0 or higher out of a possible 5.0 (or equivalent) score over the calendar year. The CEMPRO Award recognizes companies whose customer-facing service and support teams have been trained in the essential customer relationship soft skills and received certification as CEM Professionals.

“I learned from different real-life examples and how other companies incorporate CX.”

Hear and meet presenters who are service executives and CX experts from leading companies. Learn about new CRM and CX technologies that can help you better manage your service and support operations. You’re sure to take away new ideas and techniques that you can use right away within your own organization to strengthen your CX program!

Speaker: Brian LaRoche, Director, Account Based Marketing, CallMiner
Speech analytics has the power to drive dramatic contact center improvements and reinforce corporate values and messaging. Learn how Americollect used speech analytics to drive meaningful and sustained improvements in the contact center while strengthening corporate values across its entire organization. And, find out how you can adapt Americollect’s approach to:
- Create agent performance scorecards that reinforce corporate values and reward correct agent behaviors
- Build a Client Intelligence Feedback System to share with customers
- Develop impactful and informative executive summary reporting
- Improve customer experience and satisfaction |
| 10:20 am – 11:05 am | CX Playbook Technology CASE Study #2
Speaker: Delighted, Inc.
How likely are customers to recommend you? Discover why many CX leaders consider it essential to find this out, in real time, to better understand customers who are loyal and respond faster to save those at risk. |

<td>1:30 pm – 2:15 pm</td>
<td>KEYNOTE: You Can't Have Great CX Without Great Employee Experience</td>
<td>Speaker: Megan Burns, Founder and Chief Analyst, Experience Enterprises</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>There’s an ongoing debate in CX over who companies should put first: customers or employees. But it’s not an either-or proposition. Employee experience (EX) is just as, if not more, important than customer experience (CX) to the long-term health of a business.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>In this keynote session, CX expert and former Forrester VP Megan Burns will explain the difference between experience and engagement, and how changing the former helps boost the latter. You’ll come away with data and real-world examples that connect the dots between EX and areas such as empathy, customer-centricity, collaboration, and customer loyalty. And, you’ll get expert advice on deciding when it’s best to put employee needs ahead of customer needs, and why.</td>
